

Ben Stone

Ben is a co-founder of Zuppa Theatre Co. He is a performer, teacher, director, producer and writer. His work with Zuppa has toured throughout Canada, in the U.S. and U.K.

Work as an actor outside of Zuppa includes; Two Planks and a Passion, Festival Antigonish, Saint John Theatre Company, Shakespeare by the Sea and Vertical City Performance and as a director at Neptune Theatre School, Dalhousie University, Opera Nova Scotia and Festival Antigonish.

In 2012 Ben wrote, produced and starred in Slowly I Turn, which went on to be nominated for six Theatre Nova Scotia Awards, winning two, including Best Production.

Ben co-created and starred in TRANSFER, which won the Best Atlantic Short award at the 2014 Atlantic Film Festival.

A specialist in devised creation and performance, he has taught at Dalhousie, Acadia, King's College, University of Toronto, UCB, Neptune Theatre and Armbrae Academy.

Ben was a student of Dalhousie University's Theatre Department and L'Ecole Philippe Gaulier in London, England.