Lost: A Memoir - A Great Canadian Play

Saint John Theatre Company Launches Its Studio Season With An Inspiring True Story

SAINT JOHN – Saint John Theatre Company (SJTC) is preparing for another successful in house Studio Series. The season will open with the Canadian play Lost: A Memoir, a one-woman portrayal of love, loss and hope, based on the bestselling memoir by Canadian author Cathy Ostlere.

When Cathy's younger brother David fails to call home to Calgary on his birthday, she embarks on a heartrending journey to discover the truth behind his disappearance at sea, and what she uncovers brings her closer to finding the truth of her own heart. This inspiring true story demonstrates what it means to live an authentic life.

SJTC veteran and RNS teacher Lindsay Bell will be playing the role of Cathy. "Scripts like this are a gift to the actor. It is beautifully crafted and inhabiting this world and making it my own is a wondrous and precious gift. The challenge is thrilling and frightening at the same time," adds Lindsay. "I have been extremely fortunate, in recent years, to have had a series of progressively challenging roles in SJTC productions, and I think there has been a steady incline in that regard - Cathy is certainly the steep Everest of roles, and the view is breathtaking!"

The Studio Series is part of the SJTC 2013-2013 Season line-up. It offers audiences non-traditional productions featured in an intimate atmosphere. Audiences enjoy the ambiance of our rustic rehearsal hall and cabaret style setting complete with a bar and post show question & answer session with the cast. The Studio Series is funded by The Province of New Brunswick and BMO Financial Group.

Lost- A Memoir will run from September 19-21 (7:30pm) at the BMO Studio Theatre, 112 Princess Street. Tickets are $20 for adults and $15 for students. Call 652-7582 to purchase over the phone or visit www.ticketpro.ca.
